

CALL FOR PAPERS

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Foucault Circle
at

McGill University
Montreal, Canada
April 18-20, 2013

Papers on any aspect of Foucault's work, as well as studies, critiques, and applications of Foucauldian thinking, are welcome. This year's conference also includes two special sessions:

a discussion of Foucault's text I, Pierre Rivière;
a session on Foucault and the family for which we are seeking individual paper submissions.

Please send an ABSTRACT (as a ".doc" attachment) of no more than 750 words by e-mail to program committee chair

Erinn Gilson (e.gilson@unf.edu)

on or before Friday, November 16th, 2012.

Indicate "Foucault Circle submission" in the subject heading.

Program decisions will be announced in mid-December.

The meeting will begin with a Thursday afternoon screening and discussion of René Allio's film, "Moi, Pierre Rivière..." (English subtitles), followed by an informal welcome session and dinner. There will be morning and afternoon paper sessions on Friday, followed by a business meeting and dinner. The conference will conclude with paper sessions on Saturday morning. Each speaker will have approximately 35 minutes for paper presentation and discussion combined—papers should be a maximum of 3000 words (15-20 minutes, preferably 15).

Logistical information about lodging, transportation, and other arrangements will be available after the program has been announced.

For more information about the Foucault Circle, please see our website:

<http://www.foucaultcircle.org>

The Foucault Circle wishes to thank William Clare Roberts of McGill University for his help in organizing this year's conference.